Wireless pushbutton glossy white FT55-wg wall transmitter, wireless signal transmission, number of channels 4, mounting type surface-mounted, material plastic, material quality thermoplastic, halogen-free, surface untreated, surface design glossy, color white, range 30m, suitable for switches, suitable for dimmers, suitable for Shutter switch, suitable for display element, radio button, 80x80mm outside, internal frame dimensions 55x55mm, 15mm high. Generates the energy for wireless telegrams itself when the button is pressed, so there is no connecting cable and no standby loss. With rocker and double rocker. Smart home sensor. The scope of delivery includes the R frame, a W55 rocker, a DW55 double rocker (all the same color), a BRF mounting frame, the HP mounting plate, the radio module and an adhesive film. Wireless pushbuttons with one rocker can send two, wireless pushbuttons with double rocker can send four signals that can be evaluated. The mounting plate can be screwed onto a flat surface or stuck to the wall, glass or furniture using the adhesive film provided. The sleeves in the box are used for screw fastening over a 55mm switch box. The double rocker is snapped onto the wireless module ex works. If this is to be exchanged for the large rocker, then pull the rocker halves forward and do not bend towards the middle. Then snap on the large rocker so that the markings 0 and I on the back match the wireless module. When gluing, first glue the set of retaining plate with frame and mounting frame - with the catches at the top and bottom. Then snap in the radio module set with the rocker - labeling 0 on the back is always at the top.
